

Ms. Cologna's Class Newsletter

January 9, 2017

Happy New Year!

Welcome back after our winter break. I hope it was relaxing for you as it was for me. I am excited to get back to work this week and continue our learning. We will begin a fun non fiction unit on penguins this month. In math we will be working on telling time and reading different types of graphs.

We have a field trip scheduled on January 26th to the Clark Planetarium. We only have space for one parent to join our class. If you are interested in going, please contact me.

Students of the Week:

Aden Franz
Easton Macci
Marquette Howard

Skills for October:

Math:

Measuring, telling time, graphs, subtraction with regrouping

Language Arts:

Key details, compound words, multiple meaning words, features of non-fiction text

Science:

The Night Sky

Writing:

Opinion writing and informational writing
Non-fiction research project

Upcoming Events:

January 16th: No School

January 26th: Field Trip-
Planetarium

January 28th: Online Scheduler opens for SEP conferences

→ Please contact me to schedule being a Mystery Reader!
We are in need of Mystery Readers for the month of January

→ Contact info:

Jennifer.cologna@slcschools.org
mscologna.weebly.com